Inspiring the Best in Everyone!By CustomerAs a teacher at an alternative high school catering to at-risk youth in the Detroit, MI area I am 100% supportive of the work Jon Erwin presents in this book. Combined with his previous book, The Classroom of Choice all teachers and school staff can witness an improvement in their school's overall culture by learning how to reach students where they are and understanding their basic needs. I have also had the honor of attending many professional development trainings by Jon and recommend his workshops and trainings for all schools. If your school cannot get Jon, then I recommend investing in his books. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. How can teachers connect with and motivate students to embrace learning? According to Jonathan C. Erwin, the secret lies in forging positive relationships with students by meeting their individual social-emotional needs. Inspiring the Best in Students includes step-by-step instructions for dozens of classroom activities for grades 3–12 that help build student-teacher relationships while teaching both content and skills. Also included is a thorough overview of William Glasser's Choice Theory and such core teaching and learning concepts as internal control psychology and total behavior. The more students are given the freedom to make choices in a safe environment while also having fun, the more their enthusiasm for learning deepens. By following the advice in this book, you can ensure that the students in your class will remain engaged and inspired to achieve their best.
