

[Free read ebook] Just Taxes: The Politics of Taxation in Britain, 1914ndash;1979

Just Taxes: The Politics of Taxation in Britain, 1914ndash;1979

Martin Daunton

Download PDF / ePub / DOC / audiobook / ebooks*

DOWNLOAD

+

READ ONLINE

#2620214 in eBooks 2002-10-17 2002-10-17File Name: B00ARF2DE4 | File size: 71.Mb

Martin Daunton : Just Taxes: The Politics of Taxation in Britain, 1914ndash;1979 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Just Taxes: The Politics of Taxation in Britain, 1914ndash;1979:

In 1914, taxation was about 10 per cent of GNP; by 1979, taxes had risen to almost half of the total national income, and contributed to the rise of Thatcher. Martin Dauntton continues the story begun in Trusting Leviathan, offering an analysis of the politics of acceptance of huge tax rises after the First World War and asks why it did not provoke the same levels of discontent in Britain as it did on the continent. He further questions why acceptance gave way to hostility at the end of this period. Dauntton views taxes as the central driving force for equity or efficiency. As such he provides a detailed discussion of their potential in providing revenue for the state, and their use in shaping the social structure and influencing economic growth. Just Taxes places taxation in its proper place, at the centre of modern British history.

"...a huge achievement in drawing together a mass of empirical material from a wide variety of sources...and building a technically authoritative and accessible narrative of the history of British taxation in all its incoherent complexity. With this study Professor Dauntton has completed a monumental study of the British tax system which will be an authoritative guide, a source of new questions, and a stimulus of future research for many years to come." Ewen A. Cameron, University of Edinburgh, Canadian Journal of History "...a remarkable achievement." Neil Rollings, University of Glasgow, Albion About the Author MARTIN DAUNTON, FBA, is Fellow of Churchill College and Professor of Economic History in the University of Cambridge.