

(Download pdf ebook) Principles and Applications in Engineering Series Occupational Ergonomics: Design and Management of Work Systems

Principles and Applications in Engineering Series Occupational Ergonomics: Design and Management of Work Systems

William S. Marras

Download PDF / ePub / DOC / audiobook / ebooks*

Download

Read Online

#4439040 in eBooks 2009-02-21 2009-02-21 File Name: B000SIS5GU | File size: 26.Mb

William S. Marras : Principles and Applications in Engineering Series Occupational Ergonomics: Design and Management of Work Systems before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Principles and Applications in Engineering Series Occupational Ergonomics: Design and Management of Work Systems:

No description available

..provides a useful introduction to several of the major issues in occupational ergonomics; a valuable tool that gives particularly good reference for further research; Ergonomics, Vol.48, 2005

About the Author Karwowski, University of Louisville, Kentucky. William S. Marras PhD, is a Professor in the College of Engineering and the College of Medicine at The Ohio State University, a certified professional ergonomist, and a fellow of the American Institute of Medical and Biological Engineers, the Human Factors and Ergonomics Society, the International Ergonomics Society, and the Ergonomics Society. He holds two patents for devices for monitoring motion of the spine. He is an ergonomic consultant for the U.S. Department of Labor, Ford Motor Company, RCA, Honda, and other corporations and associations. He has had over 180 articles published in various medical and ergonomic journals and has coauthored several books on occupational ergonomics. He is currently the chair of the Human Factors Committee within the National Academy of Sciences.

Karwowski, University of Louisville, Kentucky. William S. Marras PhD, is a Professor in the College of Engineering and the College of Medicine at The Ohio State University, a certified professional ergonomist, and a fellow of the American Institute of Medical and Biological Engineers, the Human Factors and Ergonomics Society, the International Ergonomics Society, and the Ergonomics Society. He holds two patents for devices for monitoring motion of the spine. He is an ergonomic consultant for the U.S. Department of Labor, Ford Motor Company, RCA, Honda, and other corporations and associations. He has had over 180 articles published in various medical and ergonomic journals and has coauthored several books on occupational ergonomics. He is currently the chair of the Human Factors Committee within the National Academy of Sciences.

William S. Marras PhD, is a Professor in the College of Engineering and the College of Medicine at The Ohio State University, a certified professional ergonomist, and a fellow of the American Institute of Medical and Biological Engineers, the Human Factors and Ergonomics Society, the International Ergonomics Society, and the Ergonomics Society. He holds two patents for devices for monitoring motion of the spine. He is an ergonomic consultant for the U.S. Department of Labor, Ford Motor Company, RCA, Honda, and other corporations and associations. He has had over 180 articles published in various medical and ergonomic journals and has coauthored several books on occupational ergonomics. He is currently the chair of the Human Factors Committee within the National Academy of Sciences.