Sandra B. Rosenthal, Rogene A. Buchholz : Rethinking Business Ethics: A Pragmatic Approach (The Ruffin Series in Business Ethics) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Rethinking Business Ethics: A Pragmatic Approach (The Ruffin Series in Business Ethics):

Using classical American pragmatism, the authors provide a philosophical framework for rethinking the nature of the corporation--how it is embedded in its natural, technological, cultural, and international environments, emphasizing throughout its pervasive relational and moral dimensions. They explore the relationship of this framework to other contemporary business ethics perspectives, as well as its implications for moral leadership in business and business education.

With the increasing understanding of the impact of economic development on peacebuilding, this book can be recommended to peace researchers as an inspiration to rethink these matters * Journal of Peace Research *About the AuthorSandra Rosenthal is Provost Distinguished Professor of Philosophy and Rogene Buchholtz is Legendre-Soule Professor of Business Ethics, both at Loyola University of New Orleans.
